WORK EXPERIENCE

I currently lack professional experience as my primary focus is on my studies and acquiring knowledge from them. Alongside my academic pursuits, I engage in personal projects to reinforce and apply what I've learned.

My mini projects have encompassed fundamental aspects of HTML, CSS, and JavaScript, involving tasks such as referencing, array manipulation, and DOM tree manipulation.

Presently, I'm working on an JavaScript project focused on fetching data from the backend, displaying on dynamically UI, and implementing CRUD operations (create, read, update, delete). This project also involves the utilization of asynchronous JavaScript techniques like promises and callback functions.

Looking ahead, my plan is to broaden my expertise by delving into a frontend framework such as React. I've started to learn React. Additionally, I aspire to construct a backend using an object-oriented programming language such as TypeScript, Java, or C#, interconnected with a SQL database.

The primary aim of this initiative is to develop a foundational understanding of frontend-backend-database communication and the flow of data among these components.

To manage this project effectively, I intend to utilize Git for version control and Trello for task management. By adopting these tools, I aim to simulate real-world job environments, fostering a professional approach to project development within a team or company.

ABOUT ME

As a dedicated and motivated student, I constantly strive for improvement and achieving outstanding results. I enjoy understanding how things work from the ground up.

After completing my studies, I aim to continue with continuous improvement. I've come to see my progress during my education as a motivation to understand how little one knows until one keeps learning.

I want my knowledge, persistence, patience, and diligence to be noticeable and productive in the best possible way. I possess exceptional communication skills and the ability to adapt to different situations.

My goal is to contribute to the success of the team with my work and be part of a positive work environment.
